Dr. Robertſon's Hiſtory of

(BRITISH)

AMERICA,

Containing

The hiſtory of Virginia to the year 1685, and the hiſtory of New-England to the year 1652, being what the Doctor had completed previous to his death. It has lately been given to the public with a preface by his ſon at Edinburgh, has already paſſed through three or four editions, and has been tranſlated and publiſhed in French at Paris.

Mr. Robertſon in his preface obſerves,

"During the courſe of tedious illneſs, which he early foreſaw would have a fatal termination, Dr. Robertſon at different times deſtroyed many of his papers: But after his death, I found that part of the Hiſtory of (Britiſh) America which he had wrote many years before, and which is now offered to the public. It is written with his own hand as all his works were; it is as carefully corrected as any part of his manuſcripts which I have ever ſeen; and he had thought it worthy of being preſerved, as it eſcaped the flames to which ſo many other papers had been committed. I read it with the utmoſt attention; but, before I came to any reſolution about the publication, I put the MSS. into the hands of ſome of thoſe friends whom my father uſed to conſult on ſuch occaſions, as it would have been raſhneſs and preſumption in me, to have truſted to my own partial deciſion. It was peruſed by ſome other perſons alſo, in whoſe taſte and judgment I have the greateſt confidence: by all of them I was encouraged to offer it to the public, as curious and intereſting in itſelf, and not inferior to any of my father's other works."

The Editor of the Paris Edition apoſtrophizes the above work in the following manner.

"Every thing enſures ſucceſs to this volume the talents and reputation of the author, and the impreſſion ſtill recent in the minds of all who have read the excellent work of which this is the completion—all conſpire to give it an extenſive ſpread. The hiſtory of America was the maſter-piece of one of the two ableſt, or rather one of the two only modern hiſtorians. He has created this part of hiſtory, diſtinguiſhed this chaos of the New World, diſtinguiſhed with the hand of a maſter the part of genius, fortune, courage and crime, and conquered as it were, America, for literary, commercial, and political Europe.

"To enſure this laſt volume circulation, it is neceſſary only to name its author, and to remark, it poſſeſſes all that acuteneſs of obſervation, that perſpicuity of expoſition, the art of referring effects to cauſes, and of mingling with the account of events, the wholeſomeſt and moſt approved priciples of morals and politics, for which this writer was ſo eminently conſpicuous—In ſhort, that it exhibits the talents of ROBERTSON."

HAMBURG, December 8.

Extract of a letter from the Hague, Nov. 24.

"The new and ſo much talked of conſpiracy againſt the preſent order of things, has at laſt been diſcovered. The conſpirators did not only intend to aboliſh the exiſting government, the directory, and the popular repreſentatives, and to introduce the ſyſtem of terror, but to unite with the Brabant inſurgents. But our vigilant government fruſtrated their deſigns, and in the evening of the 19th inſtant, at 11 o'clock, the following perſons were apprehended in the houſe of citizen Voorſtadt, by order of the miniſter of the police, viz. D. Hoiſtma, member of the 2d chamber—P. Grovenevold, reſiding here—A. Voogd, of Shiedam, late a member of the conſtitutional aſſembly—F. W. M. Ruiſch, late mayor of the city of Delft—Veſſer, late member of the court of juſtice at Frieſland—Kaltener and Romyn, reſiding at Amſterdam, with the above named citizen Voorſtadt—The latter was again ſet at liberty."

Extract of a letter from Amſterdam, Nov. 24.

"According to the lateſt advices from Bruſſels, the inſurgents have made their eſcape from that city. If they had not left the place, it was intended to have ſet fire to it. One ſide of the city was overflowed by the Deimer, and as the French troops had not poſſeſſion of this poſt, they found means to get off by wading through the water, on which occaſion ſeveral hundred were drowned. The garriſon of Maeſtricht took from the inſurgents 2 field pieces and a ſtand of colors. The remainder of the rebels of Dieſt are wholly deſtroyed. The rebels carried to France are to be ſent to America. In the territory of Luxemburg ſkirmiſhes take place daily, and much blood is ſpilt on both ſides. General Colland commands all the troops on the Brabant coaſt as far as Gravelines."

Extract of a letter from Vienna, Nov. 21.

"The divan of Conſtantinople, it is ſaid, have reſolved to declare war againſt the Batavian republic, in which caſe its effects in Turkey would meet with the ſame fate as thoſe of the French. But the lateſt advices from thence mention no ſuch proceeding."

Accounts from Palermo, of October 18, ſay that the French garriſon in La Vellette on Malta, ſallied forth ſeveral hundred men, but the Malteſe being ambuſcaded, the French got between two fires, and after a hard fought battle, in which even the former loſt one hundred men, the latter were entirely cut down. On the 17th October, agreeably to orders from admiral Nelſon, four Engliſh frigates ſailed from the harbor of Trappani in Sicily, to reinforce the ſquadron before Malta, and ſent orders to the Portugueſe commodore to bombard that part of the iſland in the poſſeſſion of the French. A Daniſh ſhip laden with 120 oxen and proviſions, and ſent by the bey of Tripoli to Malta, was, on her return captured by the Portugueſe ſquadron and carried to Syracuſe.

The French navy at Alexandria conſiſts of the Cauſſe and Dubois of 64 and 65 guns—8 frigat s, la Junon, le Cancre, le Muiron, of 40 guns, Alceſte, la Courageuſe, la Mountoue, le Leoben, and le Montenotte—total of their complements, 3458 men. Alſo, of 4 brigs, le Rivoli, la Salomine, l'Alerte, le Lodi—3 bomb ketches, la Portugaiſe, l'Oranger, and l'Aglæ—1 galley, la Victorie—6 advice boats, la Foudre, la Negreſſe, la Chaſſeur, l'Independent, le Vif and le Chien de Chaſſe, manned with 8593 men.

The Nile fleet, commanded by admiral Perree, conſiſts of the xebecks le Cerf and la Revenge; of the advice boats Capricieuſe, le Sans Quartier, le Pluvier, l'Etoile, and l'Eclair; of the galleys le Coquette and l'Amoureus, and of the bomb-ketches l'Helene, la Victorie and l'Eſperance.

By this it appears that the whole naval ſtrength of the French in the Egyptian waters conſiſts of 34 armed veſſels, which are blockaded by the Britiſh ſquadron under the command of commodore Hood. The Goliah of 74 guns, the Zealous and Swiftſure of 74 guns each, and the frigates Alcmene, l'Emerald, and la Bonne Citoyenne, are cruiſing off Alexandria, and off Damietta, a Britiſh ſhip of the line, two frigates, the xebeck la Fortune, and the advice boats la Torride and le Leger, the three latter of which have been taken from the French.

Extract of a letter from Conſtantinople, October 25.

"Our government has appointed Catare, pacha faraſkier, or commander in chief of the army ſent againſt Buonaparte. A great number of troops have aſſembled in Syria. They were to have marched the beginning of September, and accounts are ſoon expected to arrive of their entry into Lower Egypt.

"Two Ruſſian frigates with ſix Turkiſh ſhips and ten bomb ketches, have been ſent to reinforce the Britiſh diviſion before Alexandria.

"Since the declaration of war againſt France, all is very quiet here. It is rigorouſly forbidden to ſpeak openly of the expedition of the French into Egypt, and the victories of Paſſwan Oglou.

"Pacha Muſtapha, a friend of Paſſwan Oglou, it is ſaid has proclaimed himſelf ſovereign of Belgrade."

Extract of a letter from Conſtantinople, November 3, received by an extraordinary conveyance.

"On the 25th October arrived here the Grand Vizier, Juſſuph Pacha, who was received with acclamations of joy by the people. He has had ſeveral conferences with the emperor and ſome of the moſt favored foreign miniſters. The firſt objects to which he will pay attention, and in which the emperor has already acquieſced, are 1ſt, The war againſt the French ſhall be vigorouſly proſecuted—2dly, To adviſe ſuch meaſures as that the war with Paſwan Oglou may be brought to the moſt ſpeedy termination.

"The Porte has received no late advices from Egypt. But the beys have declared, that they will not abate in their hoſtility until they, in conjunction with the Turkiſh forces, reconquered their country. Alexandria and other Egyptian ports are continually blockaded by the Britiſh. It is expected that the diviſion of the Ruſſian and Turkiſh fleets which ſailed hence on the 22d October, muſt by this time have arrived before Alexandria."

RASTADT, November 22.

The late report that France had ceded the iſland of Buderich to Pruſſia is not yet confirmed; and it would ſeem as if theſe powers were rather inclined to take a greater diſtance from each other, than to draw their political ties cloſer.

VIENNA, November 28.

Some days ſince, a courier arrived here from one of the moſt powerful of the German courts, whoſe diſpatches are of the utmoſt conſequence. We are aſſured, that in caſe France does not moderate in her demands touching the intereſt of the German empire and other ſtates, the coalition will receive a great addition.

Several of the knights of Malta have gone to Syracuſe, in order to go to Malta by the firſt favorable opportunity, to put themſelves at the head of the inſurgents there.

The ſeveral columns of the Ruſſian troops on their march, are to unite themſelves at Crems, it is ſaid, where our emperor will review them.

On the 15th of October, ſeveral ſlight ſhocks of an earthquake were felt.

The dey of Algiers, agreeably to orders from the Porte, has commanded his corſairs to capture all French veſſels they may meet with.

On the laſt anniverſary of the French republic, Buonaparte iſſued a proclamation to his army from Cairo, in which he recounts their exploits during the laſt five years, and tells them, that thoſe which they have actually begun to execute are more remarkable than all the preceding ones, and that all nations now direct their eyes towards them. "Warriors!" ſays he, "your deſtination is elevated—You will fall with renown, like the heroes whoſe names are engraven on this pyramid; or, you will return into your mother country covered with wreaths of laurels. This day, 40 millions, of citizens think of you."

BASIL, November 21.

The enrollment of the young men and the taxes have occaſioned diſturbance in ſeveral parts of the canton of Bern. The liberty-trees were cut down, public officers expelled their offices, &c French troops are now quartered in thoſe places.

Many young men enroll themſelves among foreign troops or emigrate.

VIENNA, November 24.

Several Britiſh frigates have appeared in the Adriatic ſea, for the purpoſe of cutting off the communication between Ancona and the French Venetain iſlands. The Ruſſian and Turkiſh fleets, conſiſting of 16 ſhips of war, are before Corfu, and have already commenced to bombard the city of Butrinto. The French force on the iſland is 3000 men.

HAMBURG, December 4.

The Paris journals of the 23d November contain a memorial, which the conſulate at Rome iſſued on the 8th November to the French commiſſaries there, which is viewed as the manifeſto of the Roman republic againſt the king of Naples.

PARIS, November 25.

Citizen Suard, commander of a French tranſport, who ſailed from Alexandria the 11th October, and arrived at Naples the 7th November, informs, that at that time the army in Egypt was in the beſt condition; that it had proviſions in abundance; that the beſt underſtanding exiſted between the French and the Egyptains; that both parties were inſpired by the ſame enthuſiaſm for Buonaparte; that the Mamelucks were ſo far reduced, that there was no more ſaid about them; that from the 4th to the 6th of October, three beys had joined Buonaparte, among whom was that of Alexandretta, and who had furniſhed him with a conſiderable sum of money, which he had distributed to his troops and the Egyptains.

Captain Callo writes from Otrante, to a member of the legislature, under date of the 8th November as follows:

From Corfu our papers of the 2d instant contain the following: Our islands is in the best state of defence. The country of Sulli, which is a part of Turky, has risen against the pacha of Janina. The inhabitants have mounted the French cockade and established a national guard. The government of Corfu has sent them arms, powder, cannon, and two casks of piastres. Mustapha pacha has effected this, who got to be a French general. The country of Butrinto has acted a similar part. From all these quarters Corfu can be furnished with provisions, with which it is already supplied for several years. All the superfluous cannon at Ancona have been sent to the heretofore Venetion islands. In Greece, 400 mules have been put in requisition to transport ordinance to the highest mountains. Our island alone furnishes 30,000 volunteers."

The council of ancients have agreed to the resolution of the council of five hundred, for laying a tax on doors and windows.

PORTSMOUTH, January 29.

On Thursday morning, at sun rise, capt. M'Neill, commanding the United States' ship of war Portsmouth, made the signal for unmooring, and at 10 A. M. he stood down the river under easy sail. The Portsmouth saluted the town by a federal discharge of cannon, which was instantly returned by Major Wm. Boyd's private armed ship, and by a private armed brig belonging to Mr. Wm. Seavey, merchant. The usual compliment from the shrowds, was acknowledged by three hearty cheers, and a farewell huzza from the gallant ship's company and hundreds of assembled spectators. The Portsmouth sets remarkably well upon the water, and bids fair to sail incomparably fast. Capt. M'Neil awaits orders in the lower harbor and proceeds at a moment to join his brave companions in defensive naval arms. Most of the officers and many of the men, were of late our respected fellow citizens; they are followed by the best wishes of the community.

The same day, John Adams, Esq. in the new Revenue Cutter Scammel, proceeded for the outer harbor. It is supposed that both vessels will go out in company; and no doubt but their respective commanders will distinguish themselves as brave sea officers.

The thirty-six gun ship, named the Congress building at this port, progresses with great rapidity. At present, there are from 70 to 80 hands employed daily. They begin work at early light and work until dark, with only half an hours intermission for meals and ten minutes for grog. The pay is from 3s. to 5s. per diem; and although this ship is finishing in the shortest days of the year, yet we are persuaded that she will be the cheapest 36 that has been built.

NEW-YORK, February 3.

GENTLEMAN-THIEF.

To the Editor of the New-York Gazette.

SIR,

On Friday evening as I was returning from the house of a friend in the suburbs, about 11 o'clock, a well dressed man crossed the street near the Hospital, who held in his hand a cocked pistol, and addressed me nearly in these words; "Sir, you cannot mistake my meaning—I have been reduced from your walks in life—I cannot beg—this is my alternative—and without any danger to yourself, you will act well to give me what money you have." I gave him four dollars and some small silver, which was all I had, he thanked me, and bid me proceed. It is proper to communicate this to the public by way of caution to others. Yours,

Saturday morning. **** ****

CHARLESTON, January 12.

TOBACCO.

From the beginning to the end of the year 1798, there has been more Tobacco inspected at the Charleston ware house, than there was in the two preceding. If the other six or eight inspectors in this state have, collectively, inspected as much, (and it is believed they have inspected considerably more) avaraging the hogsheads at 1200 lbs. nett each, this article alone, at 7 dollars per cwt. (the cash price last month and rising) will amount to more than a million of dollars.

It is also said, that there is not received near half the present crop. The citizens of this state may therefore congratulate themselves on the rising importance of their back settlements, in industry, popularity, &c. The nearest of our Tobacco planters is little short of 200 miles from Charleston, and the farthest about 300 miles.

Inspected at the Charleston Warehouse.

Authentic Information from the Isle of France.

Extract of a letter dated August 1, 1798.

"My letter of the 15th April informed you no privateers were then fitting out of this island, since which an arrival of a French armed ship brought in with her a Danish company ship from Bengal, under a decree recently made in France, that all neutral ships found with British manufactured goods on board, shall be condemned as good prize. In consequence of which two privateers have been again fitted out, and several more nearly ready: however, the decree not arriving officially, is not yet adopted in this colony."

Extract of another letter dated Sept. 27, '98.

"I have to inform of the arrestation of the American ship Orion of Boston, owned by Mr. James Tisdale, there.

This ship arrived here from Batavia, bound to Hamburg with a cargo on board, freighted by the Dutch East-India company; as such came recommended to the governor general of this colony, by the governor general at Batavia—Notwithstanding she has been arrested under the pretext of not being in rule, agreeable to the French construction, and already condemned in the Tribunal of Commerce, and I must observe, I have no hopes in the Court of Appeals.

Since the arrival of the decree from France, to capture all vessels with English merchandize, or of the manufacture of their colonies, many privateers have been fitted out from this island, and I am fearful with such instructions, as will be injurious to the American commerce."

Extract of a letter from a gentleman at Trenton (New-Jersey) to his friend in this city, dated 2d February, 1799.

"A few days since, the resolutions of the Legislature of Massachusetts, recommending the adoption of certain measures to exclude foreign influence from the Councils of the United States, were passed by the House of Assembly, 26 to 10; and this day they were negatived in Council, 10 votes to 2. This I know you will consider a very extraordinary procedure, and it is therefore proper I should state, and that the public should understand, that in the arguments before the Council, the merits of the proposed amendments did not come into view. The particular ground on which they were opposed, was the mode of application; viz. by way of instructions to our Senators and Representatives, and not an address to Congress as a body, which was conceived not to be warranted, either by the Constitution of this state, or that of the United States, and that therefore a legislative expression on this subject would be premature and wholly informal. This is the true ground of the decision—although it is probable the Demo's will endeavor to arrogate much praise and triumph on the occasion, and give the decision a conspicuous place in Pennington's and Bache's vehicle of abuse, scandal and misrepresentation."

MR. FENNO,

The excellent address of the minority of the Legislature of Virginia, published yesterday, contains the sentiments of all the independent people of that state.

It is a well known fact that the enemies to the federal government and its laws are only to be found among the bankrupts in fame or in fortune; and as the latter class have been the most numerous, it is with pleasure I inform you that the recent high prices for Tobacco, of which we had a very plentiful crop the last season, having enabled the bulk of our planters to pay their debts and to pocket an handsome surplus: they are now about to subscribe to the new loan, and are by a large majority determined on a thorough change in our representatives,—all which a little time will evince.

Yours, &c.

WHEREAS,

BY an Act of Congreſs paſſed on the ſixteenth day of July in the year of our Lord one thouſand ſeven hundred and ninety eight, the Preſident of the United States is authorſed to borrow on behalf of the United States from the Bank of the United States, or from any other body or bodies politic or corporate, or from any perſon or perſons, and upon ſuch terms and conditions as he ſhall judge moſt advantageous for the United States, a ſum not exceeding five millions of dollars, ſo however, that no contract or engagement be made which ſhall preclude the United States from reimburſing any ſum or ſums borrowed at any time after the expiration of fifteen years from the date of ſuch loan. And whereas, it is declared by the ſaid Act, that ſo much as may be neceſſary of the ſurplus of the duties on Imports and Tonnage beyond the permanent appropriations heretofore charged upon them by law, ſhall be pledged and appropriated for paying the intereſt, and alſo for paying and diſcharging the principal ſum or ſums of all the monies which may be borrowed, according to the term or terms which may be fixed, purſuant to the authority aforeſaid—And whereas by the ſaid Act, the faith of the United States is pledged to eſtabliſh ſufficient permanent Revenues for making up any deficiency that may hereafter appear in the proviſions before-mentioned for paying the intereſt and principal ſums, or either of them, of any monies which may be borrowed purſuant to the ſaid Act. And whereas the Preſident of the United States did by an Act or Commiſſion under his hand dated the ninth day of January in the year one thouſand ſeven hundred and ninety nine, authoriſe and empower, the Secretary of the Treaſury, to borrow on behalf of the United States, any ſum not exceeding in the whole, five millions of dollars and to make ſuch contract or contracts as ſhould be neceſſary, and for the intereſt of the United States, in purſuance of the Act of Congreſs above recited.

Now therefore, the underſigned, Secretary of the Treaſury, in purſuance of the Act of Congreſs, and the authority from the Preſident of the United States, above mentioned, doth hereby on behalf of the United States of America, contract and engage in manner following, to wit.

If more than five millions of dollars ſhall be ſubſcribed on the firſt day of opening the ſaid loan, the ſurplus ſhall be deducted in proportion to the ſums ſubſcribed by individuals, exceeding four thouſand dollars.

2d. For every hundred dollars which may be ſubſcribed there ſhall be forthwith depoſited and paid the ſum of twelve dollars and fifty cents, and like payments of twelve dollars and fifty cents, ſhall be made within the firſt ten days of the months of April, May, June, July, Auguſt September and October enſuing. The Secretary of the Treaſury however reſerves the right of reducing the number of inſtallments by ſpecial agreements, with the individuals who may become ſubſcribers.

3d. On the failure of payment of any inſtallment of the ſums ſubſcribed according to the tenor of the ſecond article, the next preceeding inſtallment of twelve dollars and fifty cents, which ſhall have been paid, for every hundred dollars ſubſcribed ſhall be forfeited to the United States.

4th, The ſums ſubſcribed ſhall and may be paid to the credit of the United States, at the Bank of the United States, or at the offices of diſcount and depoſit of the ſaid Bank at Boſton, New-York, Baltimore, or Charleſton, or at either of the Banks of Salem, in Maſſachuſetts, Newport and Providence in Rhode-Iſland, Hartford in Connecticut, Albany in New-York, or Alexandria in Virginia, for which payments, the receipts of the Caſhiers of the Offices of Diſcount and Depoſit and of the Banks aforeſaid ſhall be received at the Bank of the United States as equivalent to money; but no payment of a ſubſequent inſtallment ſhall be received at any other place than that where the firſt inſtallment was paid, except at the Bank of the United States; in caſe any depoſits ſhall be made at the offices of Diſcount or Depoſit, or at either of the Banks aforeſaid, which ſhall not be applied to the payment of the firſt inſtallment of ſubſcriptions to the Loan aforeſaid, the ſaid depoſits ſhall be forthwith refunded by directions from the Treaſury.

5th. For the ſums or number of ſhares of one hundred dollars, which may be ſubſcribed, certificates ſhall be given by the Caſhier of the Bank of the United States, which ſhall be aſſignable by indorſement, and delivery of the parties in whoſe favour the ſaid certificates may be iſſued, until the completion of the payments required by the tenor of the ſecond article preceeding.

6th. The ſums ſubſcribed and paid in purſuance of the tenor of the ſecond article preceeding, ſhall after the ſaid payments have been compleated, conſtiture a funded capital ſtock diviſible into ſhares of one hundred dollars each, which capital ſtock ſhall bear intereſt at the rate of eight per centum per annum from the times fixed for the payment of the reſpective inſtallments payable quarter yearly at the Treaſury of the United States, or at the Loan Offices where the ſame may ſtand credited, until the laſt day of December, in the year one thouſand eight hundred and eight.

7th. After the laſt day of December in the ſaid year one thouſand eight hundred and eight, and after reaſonable notice to the creditors, which ſhall be given by an advertiſement in ſome public newſpaper, printed at the ſeat of the government of the United States, the ſaid capital ſtock ſhall be redeemable at the pleaſure of the United States by the reimburſement of the whole ſum or ſums borrowed, and which may conſtitute the ſaid capital ſtock either at the treaſury of the United States or at the loan offices where the ſame may ſtand credited.

The credits for the ſaid capital ſtock ſhall and may be ſeparately certified in ſums either for one hundred, four hundred, one thouſand, four thouſand or ten thouſand dollars, and the credits ſo certified ſhall be transferable by the creditors, or their attornies, at the Treaſury and Loan Offices reſpectively, in purſuance of the rules which have been, or which may be eſtabliſhed relative to the tranſfer of the funded ſtock of the United States.

9th. A ſufficient ſum of the ſurplus of the duties on Imports and Tonnage beyond the permanent appropriations heretofore charged upon them by law, together with the faith of the United States are hereby pledged for the fulfillment of this contract, in purſuance of, and according to the terms and conditions of the act of Congreſs herein before recited.
